Assembly to tell story of Lucy, BY Academy

"The World of Lucy Long" is the Holo Assembly to be presented Friday at 10 a.m. in the Smith Fieldhouse.

THE STORY takes place in the Brigham Young Academy a few years ago. It involves an oriental girl who wants to find friendship, so she comes to Provo even though the Y is not an accredited school at that time.

Lucy and her roommate's struggle to bring friendship and credit to BY Academy is a portrayal of school spirit in action.

THE PLOT is intermingled with several song and dance numbers.

Bells 59 but . . .

Maris fails in homerun bid

by Norman Miller—UPI

Time has run out on Roger Maris but it's galloping swiftly along for the Cincinnati Reds in their rush to a World Series date with the New York Yankees.

Maris hit his 59th homer to help the Yankees beat the Baltimore Orioles, 4-2, Wednesday night and clinch their 26th American League pennant. In his last three times at bat, however, he was unable to hit the 60th homer that would have earned him a share of baseball immortality with Babe Ruth.

Still, there are many who will recognize him as home run king if he surpasses the magic 60 during the last eight games of the regular season without any pennant pressure. As for the Reds, the only magic number they're interested in is "4," which happens to be their pennant-clinching combination.

Unit presidents to give details of Board edict

It is necessary for all members of social units, active, inactive and auxiliary, to be present at the individual unit meetings tonight at 7 so that the decision by the Board of Trustees may be explained.

A complete explanation of the decision and its implications for the future of BYU will be given those unit representatives were present in the meeting with Elder Howard W. Hunter at the Leadership Conference.

AS ACTING DEAN of students, Dr. Belnap will supervise an extensive area of service for student welfare. Sweden plans to send jets for Katanga

STOCKHOLM, Sept. 21 (UPI)

—Sweden announced yesterday that it will send Swedish-built fighters to assist U.N. forces in Katanga Province.

The United Nations asked for the jets yesterday and the Swedish government decided to comply with the request. The jets are SAAB J29 "Flying Barrels."

Defense Minister Sven Andersson said in a radio interview that his government could not refuse such a request, "especially in view of the fact that there are many Swedish troops in dangerous positions there."

Dr. Romney was appointed dean of students in March, 1960. He joined the BYU faculty in 1945 as coordinator of veterans' affairs and in 1946 was named Counseling Service chairman. He was advanced to professor of educational philosophy and guidance in 1947 and was acting dean of students in 1951. In 1954 he served as acting dean of the College of Humanities and Social Sciences.

HE RECEIVED the B.S. degree in 1933 and M.S. degree in 1934 at BYU and the E.D. degree from Stanford University in 1947. During the summer of 1958 he was one of a group of American educators chosen to make a comparative education tour of Russia.

He was formerly associated with the Utah State Department of Public Instruction as director of libraries and school building problems and has been an officer in the Boy Scouts of America, Utah Congress of Parents and Teacher, Salt Lake County Law Enforcement Committee, Governor's White House Conference Committee and Utah Library Association.

HE FORMERLY was president of Provo Stake and was first president of the BYU Stake.

Dr. Belnap is president of BYU Stake and chairman of the Department of Religious Education. He formerly served as director of Undergraduate Studies in Religion; chairman of the Department of LDS Organization and Administration, 1952-1953; and director of the Division of Religion, 1954-1958. He was bishop of the Eleventh Ward of the original BYU Stake.

HE RECEIVED the B.S. degree in 1946 at BYU, M.A. in 1950 and the E.D. in 1954, the latter two at Columbia University.

Before joining the BYU staff in 1951, he was principal of Roosevelt High School Seminary and director of a youth camp in New York.

"MEN ON THE SPOT"—who rescued the Y from the humiliating experience of presenting a U-like face to the world are, to George Mangano, student relations vice-president; Capt. Sven C. Nielsen, Security Dept.; Ray Good, assistant to Mangano; and Gerald Mathews, Security Dept. They are holding some of the oak branches carefully cut and cached last Saturday by University of Utah students, and spread on the face of the huge black letter Wednesday in an effort to make Y become U. Has deputy sheriff authority . . .

Security head asks students' help

A plea for cooperation from all 1171 students to keep the school laws during the new year was given today by Swen C. Nielsen, newly appointed captain of campus police.

HE STRESSED that all students become acquainted with the laws. Traffic laws create a problem since students come from most of the states in the Union and many foreign countries, each having different traffic regulations.

New powers have been given to campus police, according to Nielsen. Previously they had authority mainly on campus, but they now are endowed with authority of Utah County deputy sheriffs.

Cooperation in reporting all crimes on and around campus was also stressed. Many times female students fail to report to campus police such crimes as indecent exposure because of embarrassment.

"If such things do take place and are reported the victim's name will be held in strict confidence," he said. Even an anonymous phone call would be appreciated, he added.

NIELSEN EXPLAINED a new system for detecting prowlers who do not belong on campus. Patrolmen on night duty will request identification from anyone wandering around campus. Their names will be listed in the Security Office for further reference.

This thing is not to be construed as a black mark on the student's record. It is to be used mainly as a reference for the officers to check so those with night missions will not be apprehended. If a student has business around the campus after hours then the file will help prove this, he said.

The campus force has two full-time and 11 part-time officers, he said. At least one number of the force is on duty 24 hours a day.

A patrolman drives through the campus area, occasionally stopping to check buildings for prowlers. Nielsen pointed with pride to the apprehension of two burglars in recent years who were attempting to crack the Maeser Bldg. safe. An alert patrolman followed the smell of cigarette smoke which led him to the culprits.

THE YOUNG POLICE captain admitted that there are some traffic hazards on campus and said he would try to eliminate them. He is willing to listen to any suggestions pertaining to such problems.

Nielsen graduated from Los Angeles State College with a B.S. in Police Science and Administration. He also has had experience on the L. A. Police Department.

He offered miscellaneous information to bicycle owners. Stolen bikes or those impounded for other reasons will be held for six months, and if the true owner is not found, they will be given to a charitable organization, he said.

Flowers brighten desks for secs, office workers

by Rita Trujillo
BYU News Bureau

At a university it's only reasonable that the teachers be given candy, apples and flowers; but at BYU the secretaries and office workers receive floral tributes.

"SWAIN" TO OFFICES full of flower-loving women is William K. Graham, an employee of the Grounds Department, who delivers baskets of bright autumn flowers Monday and Wednesday. Crowned just south of the Picture Studio, the flowers are distributed throughout the Smooth Building, Physical Plant offices, housing offices of the president's home.

Head gardener for BYU is Kenneth Olson. He is an acre of flowers at the studio and tends them as they would tend corn. His colorful crop not only lends beauty to the offices but also decorates tables for Food Service events.

THE FLOWERS will keep blooming until frost comes. Then, the asters will be the last to die, according to Graham.

Besides growing flowers, the Grounds Dept. cares for lawns, shrubs and trees on all of the academic campus those at Wyview, Heritage Hall, Helaman Hall, the Picture Studio, BY High School and Page Hall. Grounds employees also are responsible for the care of a football field.

SUPERINTENDENT of the department is Cameron, who is also head of the motor pool, heavy equipment and roads and walks. He is in charge of maintaining acres of lawns—cutting and watering—8 miles of sidewalk and 4 miles of roads, including snow plowing in the winter.

Hammarskjöld's successor will be 'Troika'—Reds

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y., Sept. 21 (UPI)—The question of a U. N. seat for Communist China comes up for initial debate today when the General Assembly's 12-member committee takes up the agenda.

While the 21-member committee met and the Security Council was in adjournment until tomorrow, backstage action went ahead to have the world parliament name an acting secretary general until a successor to Dag Hammarskjöld is chosen.

AN INFORMAL 12-nation committee with wide geographic distribution scheduled an afternoon meeting to draft a resolution asking the Security Council to name Hammarskjöld's successor. It would propose that the assembly meanwhile select an acting Secretary General. No name was mentioned in the meeting. The most likely candidate for the job. The drafting group consists of representatives of Ireland, Norway, Yugoslavia, the Arab Republic of Liberia, India, Burma, Iraq, Argentina, Chile, Mexico and Indonesia.

THE RUSSIANS were reported to have told the committee they would insist on eventual institution of Nikita S. Khrushchev's "Troika" system of three Secretaries General with a veto.

The countries backing the proposed resolution would persuade Khrushchev—perhaps by ambassadorial visit in Moscow—to agree to their idea.

The Moscow communique last night said Russia would insist on the Troika system but did not make clear whether the Kremlin demanded that it be put into operation immediately.

The strategy of the United States was to have the issue declared an "important" question, requiring a two-thirds majority of the Assembly for decision. This was done by a simple majority vote of the Assembly and the spokesmen said they had the votes.

If the United States could muster a majority on the voting issue, it was certain of more than enough votes to block Russia's demand for a Peiping seat under a two-thirds rule.

Russell calls stay in jail big holiday

LONDON, (UPI)—Britain's philosopher Bertrand Russell, most distinguished ex-convict, says he's ready to return to prison if necessary to save the world from atomic disaster.

Russell, 89, back in his London home after seven days in a London jail because he took part in an anti-nuclear demonstration banned by police, said prison afforded him a "holiday" to catch up on some back reading.

RUSSELL said he was pleased at the outcome and publicity given the mass sitdown demonstration Sunday at London's Trafalgar Square in which 1,310 persons were arrested about half of whom were jailed. Yesterday more than 600 persons filed through 10 London courts paying fines of mostly $280 and $360, although some were higher.

More "ban the bomb" demonstrators were to appear in court today. They take the position Britain should lead America and Russia into nuclear disarmament by unilaterally doing so first.

HIS JAIL sentence, Russell said, helped the cause of the anti-nuclear bomb "committee of 100" of which he is president. He said he had received encouraging letters from all over the world, including Denmark, Japan, America, Czechoslovakia and Poland.

Transfer students invited to picnic at Kelly's Grove, Sat.

This year more than 700 under students are attending TU. It is because of this number that the transfer students play an important part in a school.

Because orientation is primarily aimed at freshmen, the AS and the AWS are making special effort to be of help to the transfer student.

THE AMS and the AWS wish all transfer students to participate in the school's activities and functions and to make suggestions that can be of benefit to BYU.

The first big activity of the year for the transfers will be a party this Saturday at Kelly's Grove, Hobbie Creek Canyon. Transfers who wish to attend the party should meet on the east lawn of the Joseph Smith Bldg. at 1 p.m. Saturday.

Want to be in the know, meet the wheels around campus, or learn of various research projects being conducted by leading professors here at the Y?

If any of these appeal to you, drop down to the Daily Universe office, basement Student Service Center, fill out and application and get ready to work.

EXPERIENCED reporters are especially needed, but there are also openings for receptionists, copy readers, proof readers and editors.

In photography your pet project? Bring your camera, the Universe will furnish the film and put you to work.

Choruses want men

Students are invited to participate in one of BYU's choral groups. The choruses especially need masculine timbre.

Openings are available in A Cappella Choir, Oratorio Choir, Men's Chorus, Women's Chorus, University Chorale and Opera Workshop.

Contact either Prof. Newell

Weight, Prof. John R. Halladay or Prof. Maughan McMurdie for further information.

Make-up tests slated

Make up orientation tests for students who missed them will be given Saturday in the Social Hall beginning at 8 a.m.

If students missed only one test, they may call ext. 2961 to ask the time when it is to be given.

Peach Dishes Offered As Good, Inexpensive

by Dorothy Hicks

Luscious Utah Peaches are one of the best buys currently on the fruit stands in local markets. They're fairly inexpensive and loaded with goodness, so take advantage of them while you can.

SLICE THEM over your breakfast cereal in the morning, tuck one or two in your lunch if you carry it with you, or, if you're home for lunch, combine sliced fresh peaches with slices of your favorite melon, red plums, and a few small green grapes for a nutritious fruit salad. And for a scrumptious dinner dessert that's sure to please your roommates and/or guests, try one of the following:

Peach Upside-down Cake
2 tablespoons butter or margarine
2 tablespoons peach puce
2 tablespoons burnt sugar flavoring
2 tablespoons brown sugar

COMBINE all ingredients and simmer over low heat until syrupy. Into the syrup mixture place 3 or 4 sliced peaches (fresh or canned) and stir carefully until well coated with the syrup. Place peaches and syrup in a well-greased 8x8 baking pan and allow to cool as you mix the cake batter.

Cake Batter

$\frac{1}{2}$ cup butter or margarine

$\frac{1}{2}$ cup sugar
1 beaten egg
1 teaspoon vanilla
 $1\frac{1}{2}$ cups sifted flour
2 teaspoons baking powder
 $\frac{1}{2}$ teaspoon salt
 $\frac{1}{2}$ cup milk

CREAM shortening and sugar together, add the egg and vanilla. Beat well. Sift dry ingredients and add alternately with the milk. Pour batter over peaches and syrup and bake in a 300-325 degree oven for 45 minutes. Loosen sides of the cake from pan as soon as you take it from the oven and turn carefully upside down on a plate. Serve whipping cream or ice cream, if desired.

Peach Cream Pie

$\frac{1}{4}$ cup sugar
2 tablespoons flour
 $\frac{1}{4}$ teaspoon salt
1 cup sour cream
1 slightly beaten egg
 $\frac{1}{2}$ teaspoon vanilla
2 cups peaches

COMBINE sugar, flour, and salt. Beat in sour cream, eggs, and vanilla. Stir the sliced peaches in last. Pour into a pastry-lined 9-inch pie pan. Bake at 400 degrees for 15 minutes, then at 350 degrees for 30 minutes longer. Remove from heat and sprinkle with the following toppings:

Fall fashions for this year feature raised hemlines and stunning colors. Sheathis with a gathered waistline are quickly becoming the rage, and culottes may be seen on campus this year.

As college wardrobes are completed this fall, coeds, remember the fashion at Brigham Young University is MODESTY.

Watch For...

Alpha Phi Omega will meet Thursday for an officers' meeting at 5 p.m. in 70 Knight Bldg. Members and visitors are welcome at 6:30.

$\frac{1}{2}$ cup sugar
 $\frac{1}{2}$ cup flour
 $\frac{1}{4}$ cup butter
1 teaspoon cinnamon

Cut all ingredients together until mixture resembles cornmeal. Sprinkle over top of the pie and bake a 400 degrees for 10 minutes, or until brown and bubbly.

Campus Dress Standards Define

Dress standards are a vital part of this church university. Because this fact is widely known, the reputation of the Y must be upheld. No off the shoulder or spaghetti strap dresses are worn to any campus dance or social function.

"Heels and hose" usually implies a nice dress (not fancy) or a skirt and sweater and heels should be worn to the event.

Game time means a skirt and sweater and heels if the outfit needs them.

Skirts and sweaters or dresses are always worn in cafeterias including Cannon Center. And capris are worn in the library.

Sunday is a dress up day; especially if company is expected.

Lyceums call for Sunday dress with maybe a little more appropriate.

The most formal dance on campus is the Junior I Extra special party dress semi-formal ballroom. I dresses are worn to this dance.

Sociology Takes Look At the Average Date

Our stained social system has certainly abused the poor male. This is the way that a sociologist (and perhaps the men) would look at the average date.

Man usually makes a few preparations before going out on a date. One of these is a process in which he cuts away his hair growing out of his face. He then applies a solution to his face. This solution keeps his face from getting sore—if he hasn't already cut it. The main purpose for using this solution, however, is the pleasing odor it has.

After all the preparations have been made and he is dressed in what is considered the latest style, he drives all the way across town to pick up his date, when it would be much easier to meet her at some convenient midpoint. He has to find a parking place and go to the door to get her. (This way if it is raining they both get wet.) He waits while she finishes dressing, he helps her on with her coat, he helps her with the door, he helps her across the street, and he helps her into the car. All this he does as though he weren't able to do it for herself.

They then drive back downtown (what a waste of gas and time tread). They stop at the theater where the fellow stops the car, gets out, runs around to the girl's side to open the door, helps the girl out of the car, finds a spot for her to wait while he runs back to the car, takes it to a parking place and he runs back to the theater. He then stands in line to buy his tickets when she could have been doing that while she was waiting. He pays for both of them. Once in the theater lobby he buys her some refreshments, leads her to a seat and helps her off with her coat. After the movie he walks back to get the car, and then drives back to his date where he gets out and helps her get in the car. It is customary that he ask her if she would care for something to eat and if she says yes, the same courtesies are extended at the restaurant as at the theater.

After they have eaten and he has paid the check, he usually drives her straight home. When they get to the door of her home, he takes her key and struggles to open the door for her. He then turns to her and asks if he may have the privilege of doing it again sometime.

Ah yes, it's a man's world.

Events Dictate Styles

by Kathy Johns
Preparing BYU coeds for womanhood, teaching appreciation of clothing design and wear, developing creative abilities are a few of the purposes of several exciting classes offered this semester by the Department of Clothing and Textiles.

AN INTERESTING class available for freshman girls is offered this year. The girls begin the semester by analyzing their figures and faces. From this, each girl determines the style of clothing and the type of hair-do that will suit her best.

She then experiments with colors to see which hue becomes her and finally, she plans a wardrobe. Every member of the class can develop her individuality in dress and appearance.

FOR THE student only mildly interested, there is a class of ferred on the history of costume. The way we dress, it points out, is influenced by outside activities or interests. The class investigates the ancient and Egyptian man and progresses on through the modern man to see what actually makes people dress the way they do. Political and social events have great power over the styles.

For example, in the 1930s the women's styles were boyish. This was to prove that they had been emancipated and were equal in rights with men.

ADVANCED work in clothing and textiles goes into deeper research and detail. The research classes deal with many different fields. Another example: one student took some cloth and analyzed it to see how much fiberage it had in it after washing.

BYU vs. Buffs...

'New look' grid teams to hook up

A pair of teams with shining new looks will hook up in a battle in the dusty Texas Panhandle Saturday.

Both the BYU Cougars and the West Texas State Buffaloes are rebuilding this year, and the battle will be the first for both schools.

The two coaches too, are relatively new to their growing teams. Coach Hal Mitchell received his varsity baptism against San Jose last week, and coach Joe Kerbel is in his second year at WTS.

Coach Kerbel has recruited a whole herd of transfers to bolster his 1960 squad which had a 37 record, almost the same as the Cats 38 mark.

Mitchell will bring a great many sophomores to Canyon for the game which kicks off at Buffalo Stadium at 7:30.

West Texas State could develop into one of the fleetest teams in its league with able guidance of quarterback Jim Dawson. The Buffaloes operate with a pre-type Split system as opposed to the single wing offense.

Pot begins to simmer on tough Skyline menu

by Jim Bury
Universe Sports Writer
The Skyline pot begins to boil as tough Utah V moves its first intersection for the season and powerful Utah State goes conference play this Saturday.

Utah's Bunnin' Redskins who travel to Madison, Wis., to take on coach Milt Bruhn's Wisconsin Badgers, Utah, after thrashing Colorado State 40-0, will find themselves facing a tough Big 5-a crown contender.

Powerful Utah State will play host to Montana, who suffered a 20-0 defeat at the hands of the 8-pointing Cowboy last week.

Winning will meet North Carolina State at Laramie next Saturday night.

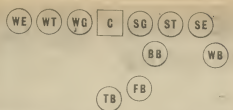

BYU will fly to Canyon, Tex., where they will run into an of three similar to that used by San Jose State, who squeaked by the Cougars in a thriller 14-13 last week.

New Mexico is entering the gridiron race a week late, and will face rugged New Mexico State in Albuquerque.

Utah, playing the toughest schedule of its long football history, is counting heavily on the strength of the quarterback spot and the tough line which has become a tradition in the Big Nagel camp.

Utah State, back again with All-American candidate Merlin Olsen and hard running Tommy "Gun" Larscheid, is expected to fare well in their relatively light grid schedule.

Brigham Young, with the "new look," will undoubtedly call upon young blood again this week when they meet the West Texas State Buffaloes.

Cats show form

Brigham Young University, one of the few teams in the nation to use the single wing offensive formation, seems to have found the mark on the football field. This offense is designed to launch plays primarily from the strong side, and plays are established to direct concentrated blocking to any particular defensive area.

Grant Library Bldg. finds new use

Meyl Lynn Croft

Universe Staff Writer

Despite falling plaster, empty bookshelves, carpenters and painters, classes are being conducted in the old library.

The Heber J. Grant bldg., used as a library since 1925, is now being converted into classrooms, laboratories and offices for the College of Biological and Agrcultural Sciences and the Geography Dept.

R. H. WALKER, dean of the college, said in the future, plans will be made to use the entire reading room on the second floor as a museum, but for the present, only the middle section will house specimens of reptiles, eggs, plants and animals.

The displays will also contain the archaeological findings of Benjamin Cluff, former president of BYU. In 1900 President Cluff sponsored a South American expedition to engage in an archaeological study of Book of Mormon sites.

Cartograph and photography laboratories and classrooms for the Geography Dept. will be located in the west wing of the first floor, according to Elliot Tuttle, acting chairman of the department.

He said this will be the first time in the history of the department that all its offices and classrooms have been housed under one roof.

Because of the high ceilings in the building, large 10-foot maps and charts can be conveniently stored and displayed.

Mr. Tuttle said

THE AGRICULTURAL program, Animal Husbandry, Horticulture, will also use the former library.

As these departments move into the Brimhall Bldg., there will be more space there for the departments of Zoology, Bacteriology, Agronomy depts.

A GOOD TRADITION DOES NOT CHANGE

In this world of speed and space, we are so often tempted to change for the sake of change. Yet a classic is timeless...like the traditional look and soft shoulder tailoring of the College Hall clothes we feature.

This season, we continue this tradition. We bring you our own exclusive innovations in fabric and fit...subtle refinements in suits and jackets that augment the authority of our authentic styles...all, of course, within the soft shoulder framework. That is why the clothing you see in our store has the inherent good taste in fabric and look that marks the wearer as the man to watch...naturally.

Health magazine gives advice on tranquilizers, sleeping pills

CHICAGO, Sept. 21 (UPI)—Students who buy and use non-prescription sleeping pills and so-called tranquilizers to ease their nerves after a busy day at school are not getting the money's worth, according to a report in a national health magazine.

"THE VERY fact that a 'quiet pill' can be bought at the counter should be enough to say to the doubt-thinker that he is buying a placebo," said the article in the current issue of Today's Health.

"True tranquilizers are meprobamate and chloral hydrate," said the article in a prescription, "said the magazine, a monthly publication of the American Medical Association. It said antihistamines, such as methapyrilene are frequently sold as over-the-counter 'tranquilizers' because they make drowsiness as a side effect. Other drugs often combined with the antihistamine include such other as sleeping pills, mild sedative, and such as killers as salicylamide, morphine, and barbiturates. The magazine said that the only reason they are allowed to be sold without a prescription is because the amount of drugs in each dose is well below what is ordinarily needed to have untoward effects," it said. "The danger lies in the fact that persons who are over-medicated in pharmacology are disturbed may take two or three doses," it added.
